

It has come to our attention that some of the vendor community may have downloaded from the State's website, a version of Amendment One, dated June 21, 2005, that was not accurate.

For a brief period of time, an incorrect version of Amendment One was posted on the State's website. The correct version was later posted as well as attached to the email sent to you on June 21, 2005.

Please verify you have the correct version of Amendment One. The document date is still June 21, 2005. However, to ensure the accuracy of the content, the RFP Schedule of Events, beginning at Item #7, should be listed as UPDATED and the Proposal Deadline is now July 12, 2005, at 2:00 p.m.

Please discard any old versions of the document that you might have downloaded, and ensure that you are using the current version, as described above.
